

NMPolitics.net the real story

As mentioned in our nomination letter, the bulk of the 2017 coverage, titled “Distressed: A Look at Behavioral Health in Southern New Mexico,” published in November 2017 in the Las Cruces Sun-News website and print editions, as well as NMPolitics.net online edition. The covered consisted of the following (clickable links are embedded):

1.) “People in crisis, deadly force and the search for a better way”

- Article by Sun-News Reporter Carlos Andres López
- Embedded video by Sun-News Photojournalist Robin Zielinski
- <http://nmpolitics.net/index/2017/11/people-in-crisis-deadly-force-and-the-search-for-a-better-way/>

2.) “Fragile behavioral health system doesn't meet region's needs”

- Article by Sun-News Reporter Diana Alba Soular
- Embedded video by Sun-News Photojournalist Robin Zielinski with interview footage by KRWG News Director Anthony Moreno
- <http://nmpolitics.net/index/2017/11/fragile-behavioral-health-system-doesnt-meet-regions-needs/>

3.) “Mental health court could lower recidivism, cut costs”

- Article by Sun-News Reporter Carlos Andres López
- <http://nmpolitics.net/index/2017/11/mental-health-court-could-lower-recidivism-cut-costs/>

4. “Officials explore options to expand psychiatric hospital to southern NM

- Article by Sun-News Reporter Diana Alba Soular
- <http://nmpolitics.net/index/2017/11/officials-explore-options-to-expand-psychiatric-hospital-to-southern-nm/>

With questions, please contact Las Cruces Sun-News News Director Lucas Peerman: 575-202-1295